DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of claims 40-59 in Paper No. 9 is acknowledged.

It is also noted per a conversation with R. Khanna on 10-15-03 that claims 53-59 are also withdrawn without traverse.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 45 and 51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The applicant cannot start adding things to the application after it has been filed such as carbon fiber. The element must be removed from the claim. Again, it was never disclosed by any acceptable means in the original disclosure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 3732

5. Claims 40, 46, and 65 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Senegas.

Senegas discloses an implant comprising:

- A fixation means comprising an elongated plate 16;
- With curved appendages prior to the curvature;
- Curvature; and
- Fasteners 30.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 41-45, 48, 50-52, 60, 61, 63, and 64 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Senegas in view of Angelucci et al..

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to use any of the materials suggested, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

It would have also been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to replace the bands with the screw holes and screws as taught by Angelucci in order to better secure the implant.

Art Unit: 3732

8. Claims 49 and 62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Senegas in view of Cathro.

Senegas lack the use of a strait appendages. Cathro teaches the use of straight retainers for a lamina. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide Senegas with the straight retainers like those taught by Cathro in order to better retain the lamina. Also the element lacks criticality as evident by the applicants claiming of both straight and curved portions.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 3-10-2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., the shape) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

- The applicant must further define the invention. The claims are the definition of the invention and act to put the world on notice.
- The appendages are shown they are located next to the bone in figure 3.
- The use of screws is well known in the art and are clearly an alternative to one of ordinary skill in the art.
- The design of "claims" is anticipated by the prior art.
- It is not the prior art claims in which the application is examined. If it is disclosed, it can anticipate.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
